Day By Day

Geel! The Rolling Stones, and for only $1,000,000!

Lemme see, Rusty, your hair is a little messed.

With this ring, I thee wed.

Remember The Good Times

The juniors' efforts at poster making.

Take a long look, it's the last time you'll see 'em all quiet.

I wonder what I'd look under to find Play-boys?

And Hold Them Dear.

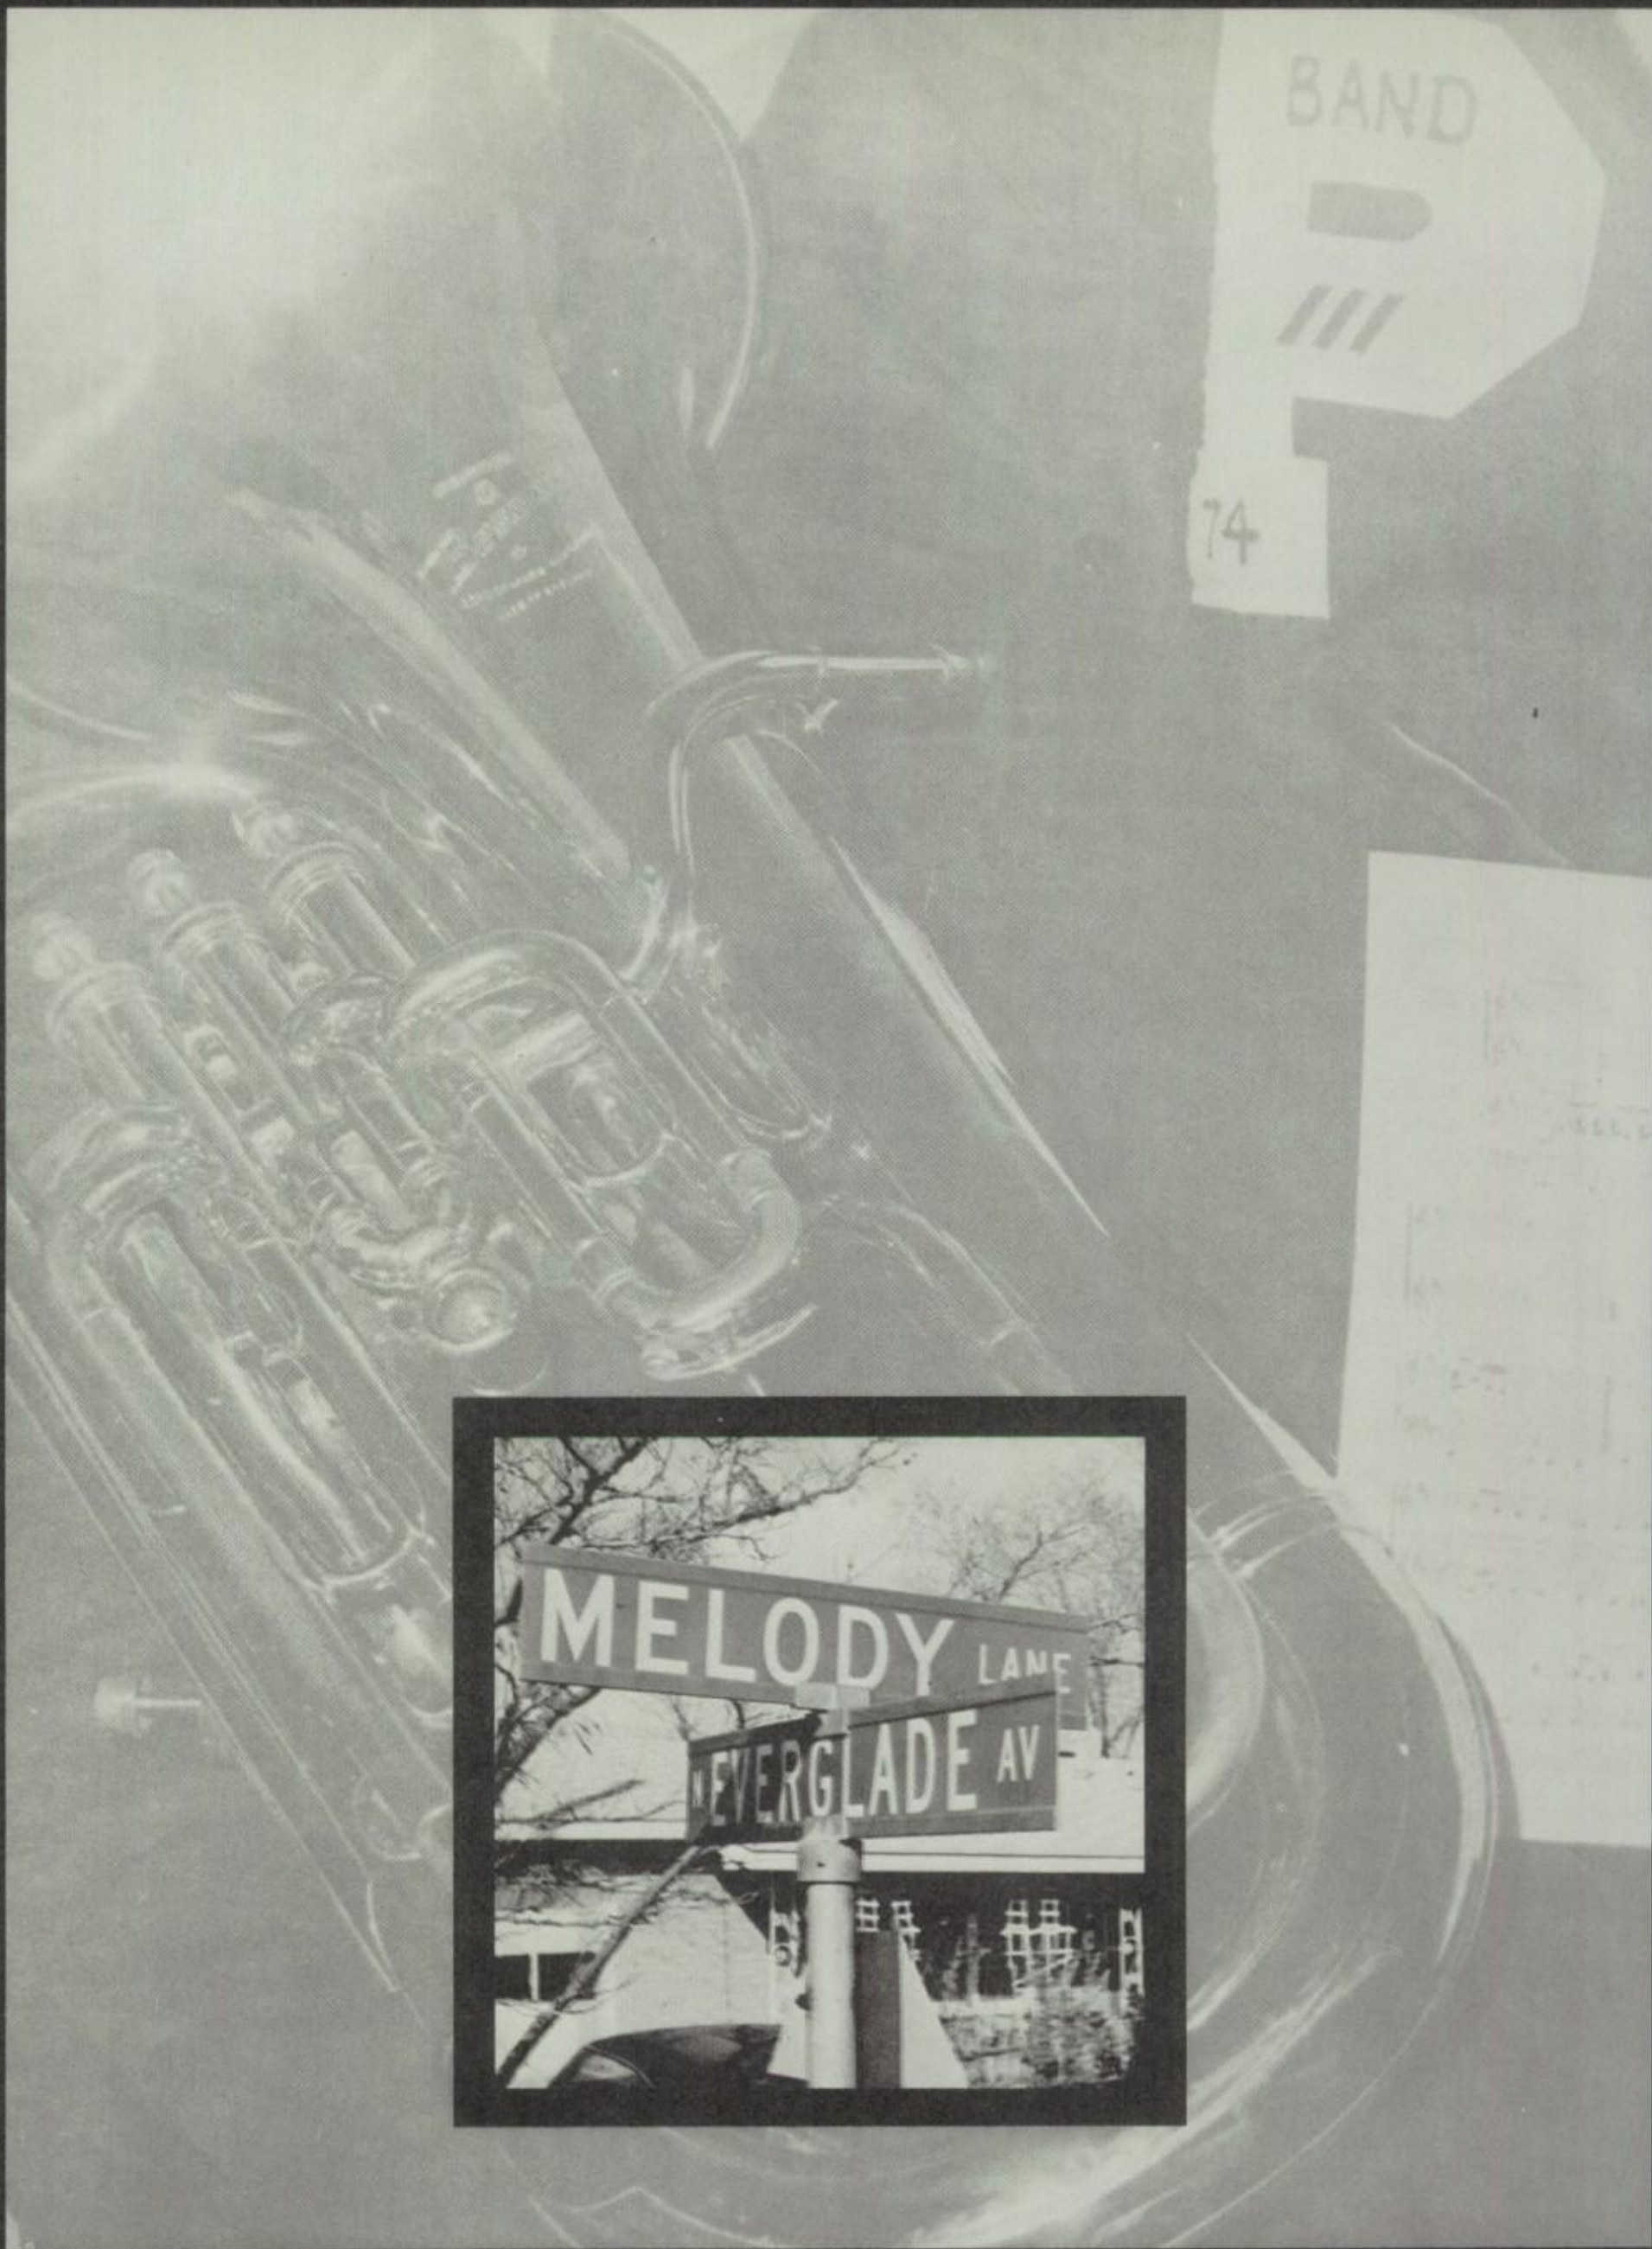

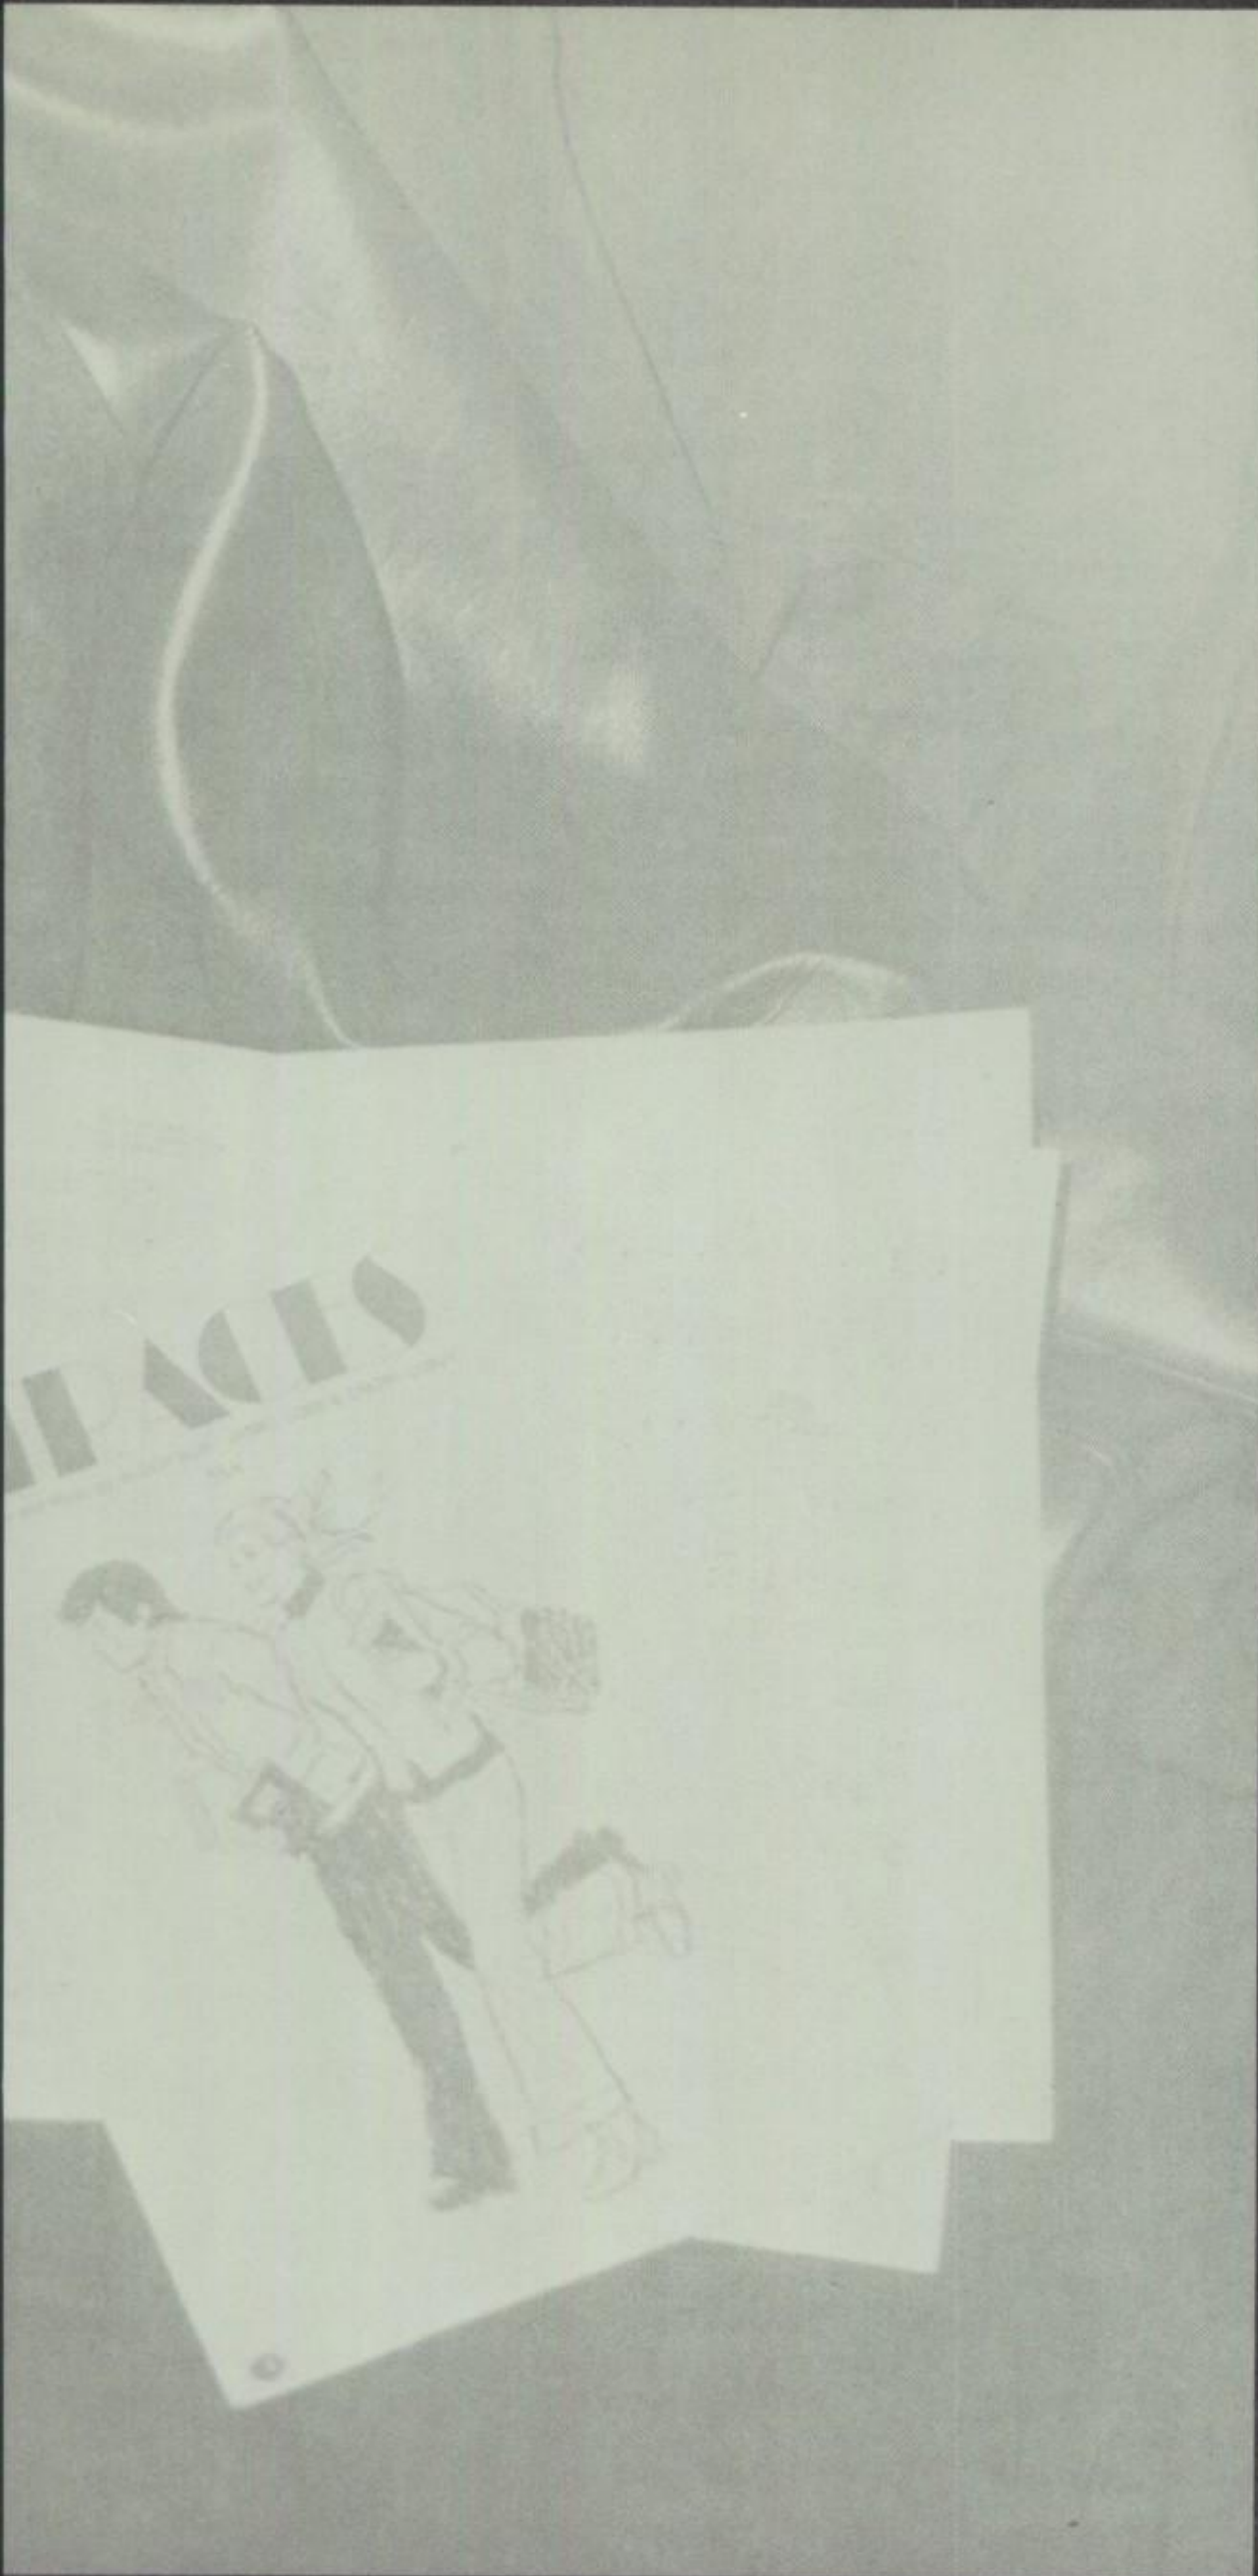

All together now, 1, 2, 3, . . .

Sorry Karen, but I already have a date to twirp.

Best Dressed Cowgirl

So that's how you tell time!

The Wild Bunch

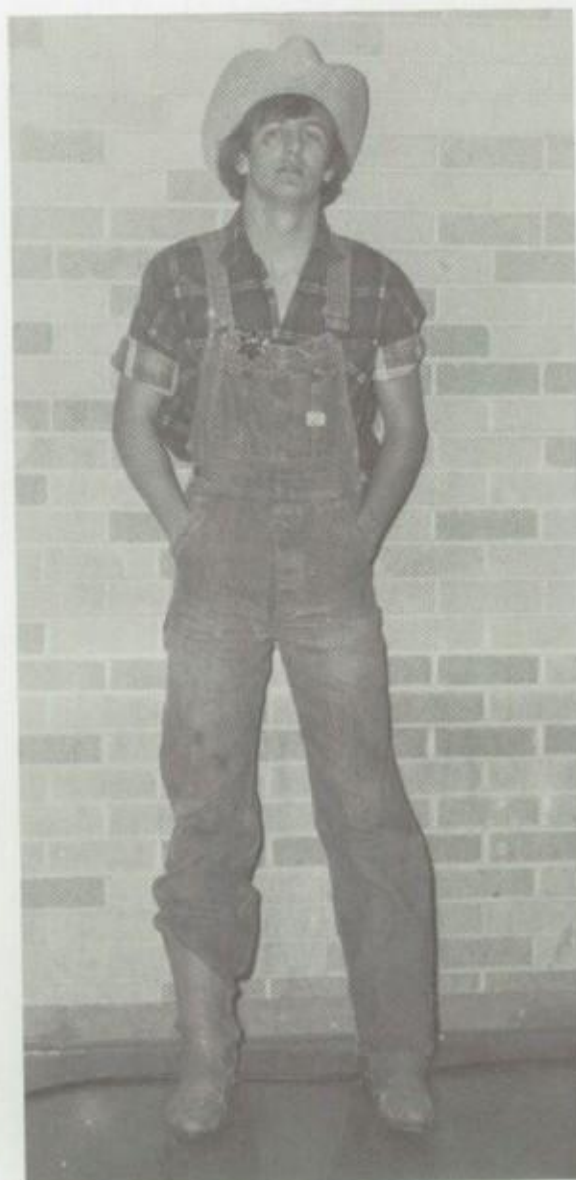

But Larry, you promised to take me home!

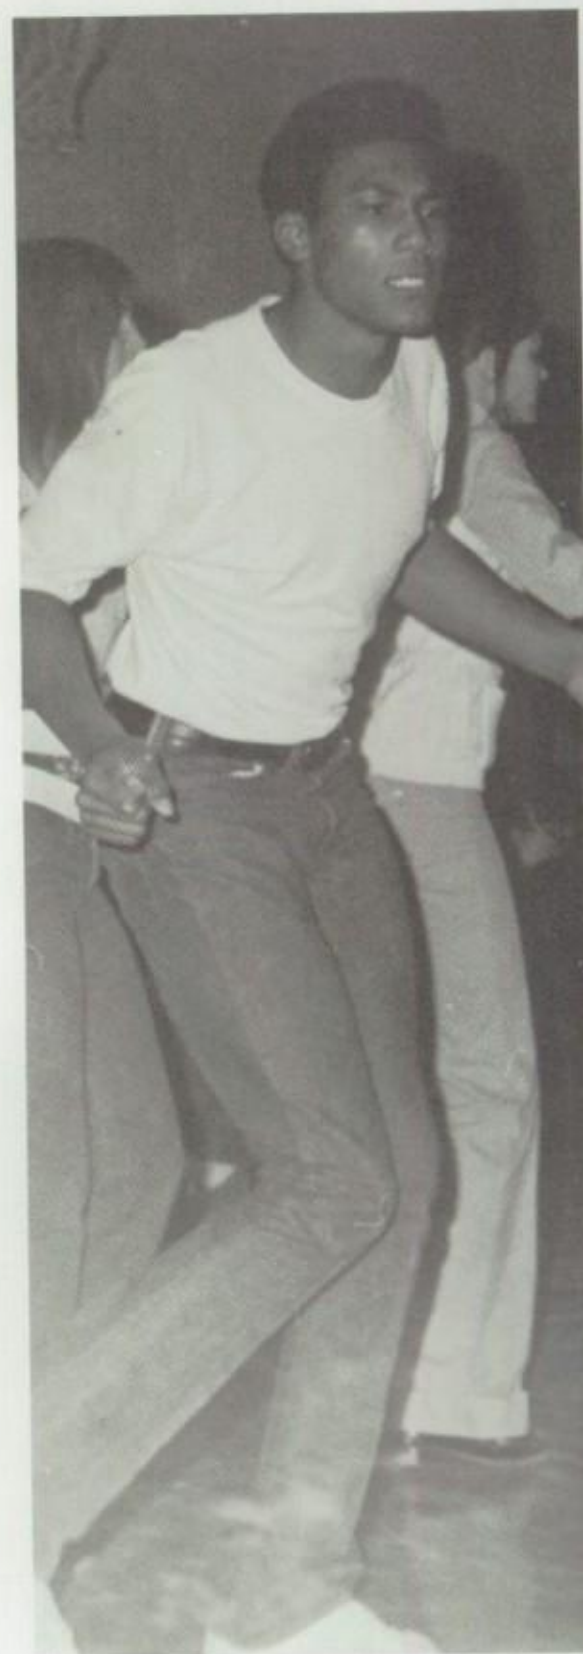

Mr. Bubble-Gum 1974

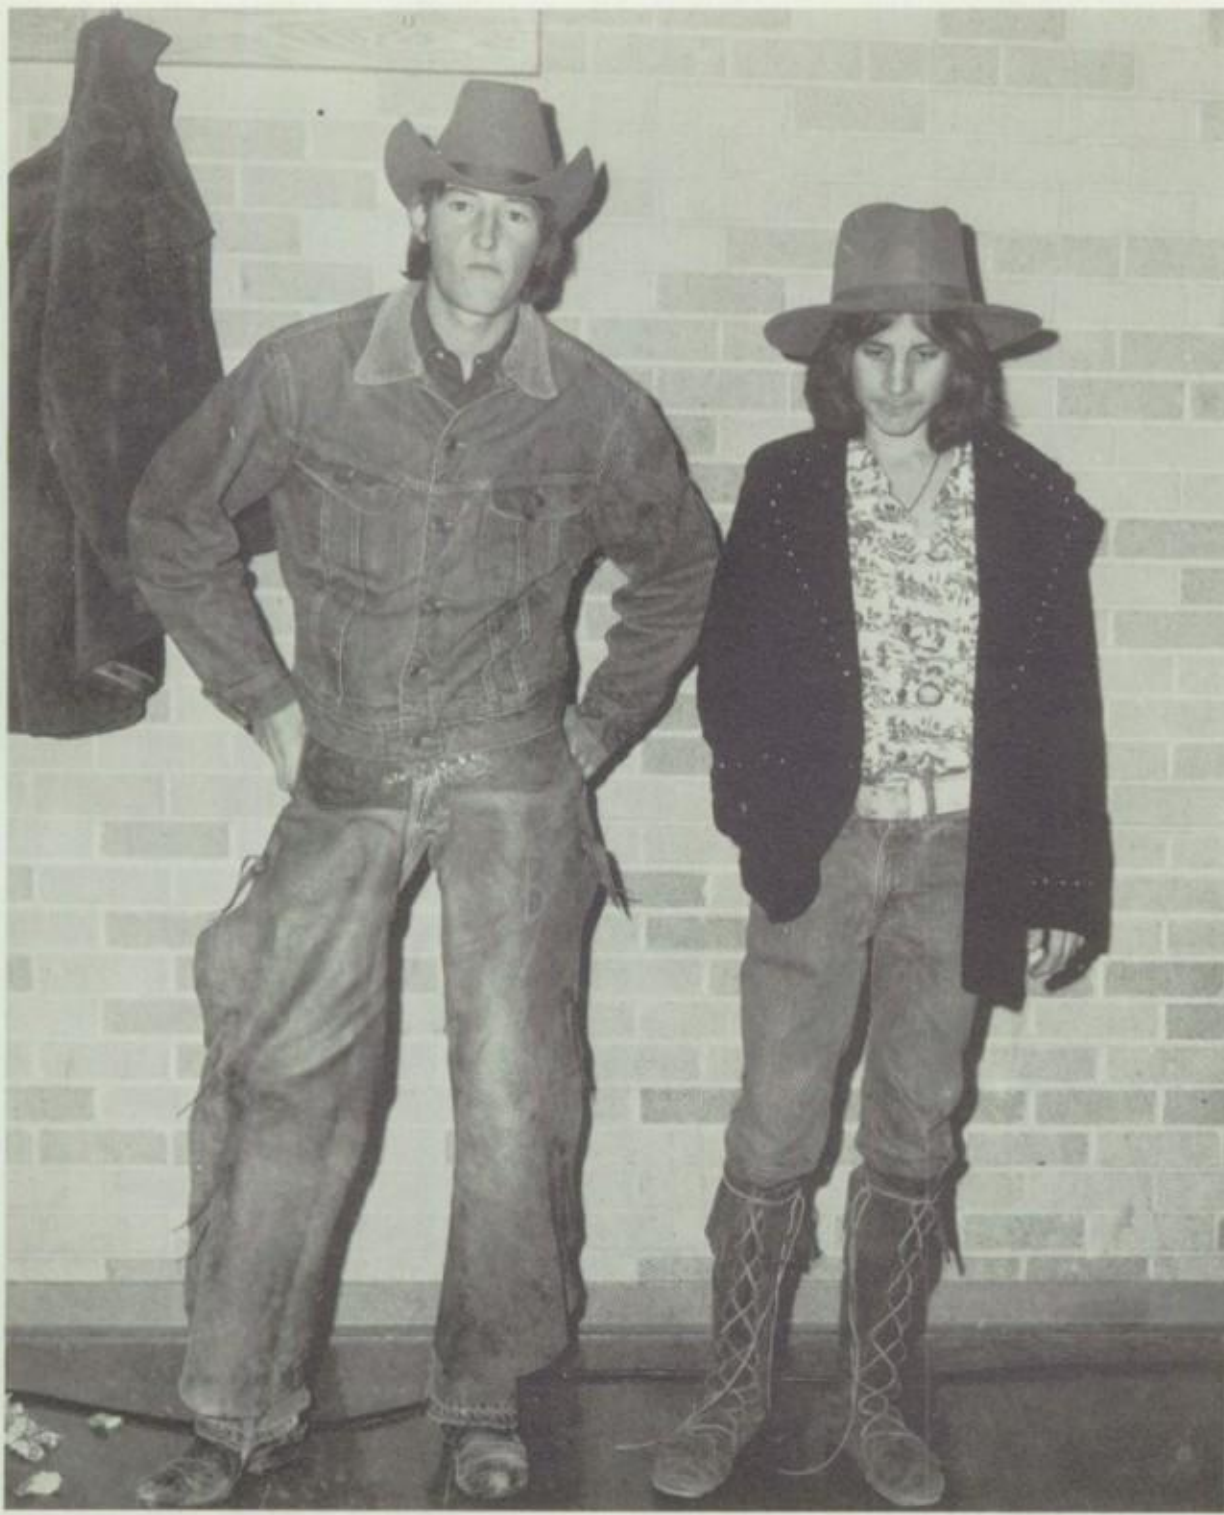

How disgusting!

Best dressed dude?

I got the feeling.

Jesse James and Billy The Kid

And We Cross The Roads To Be Different

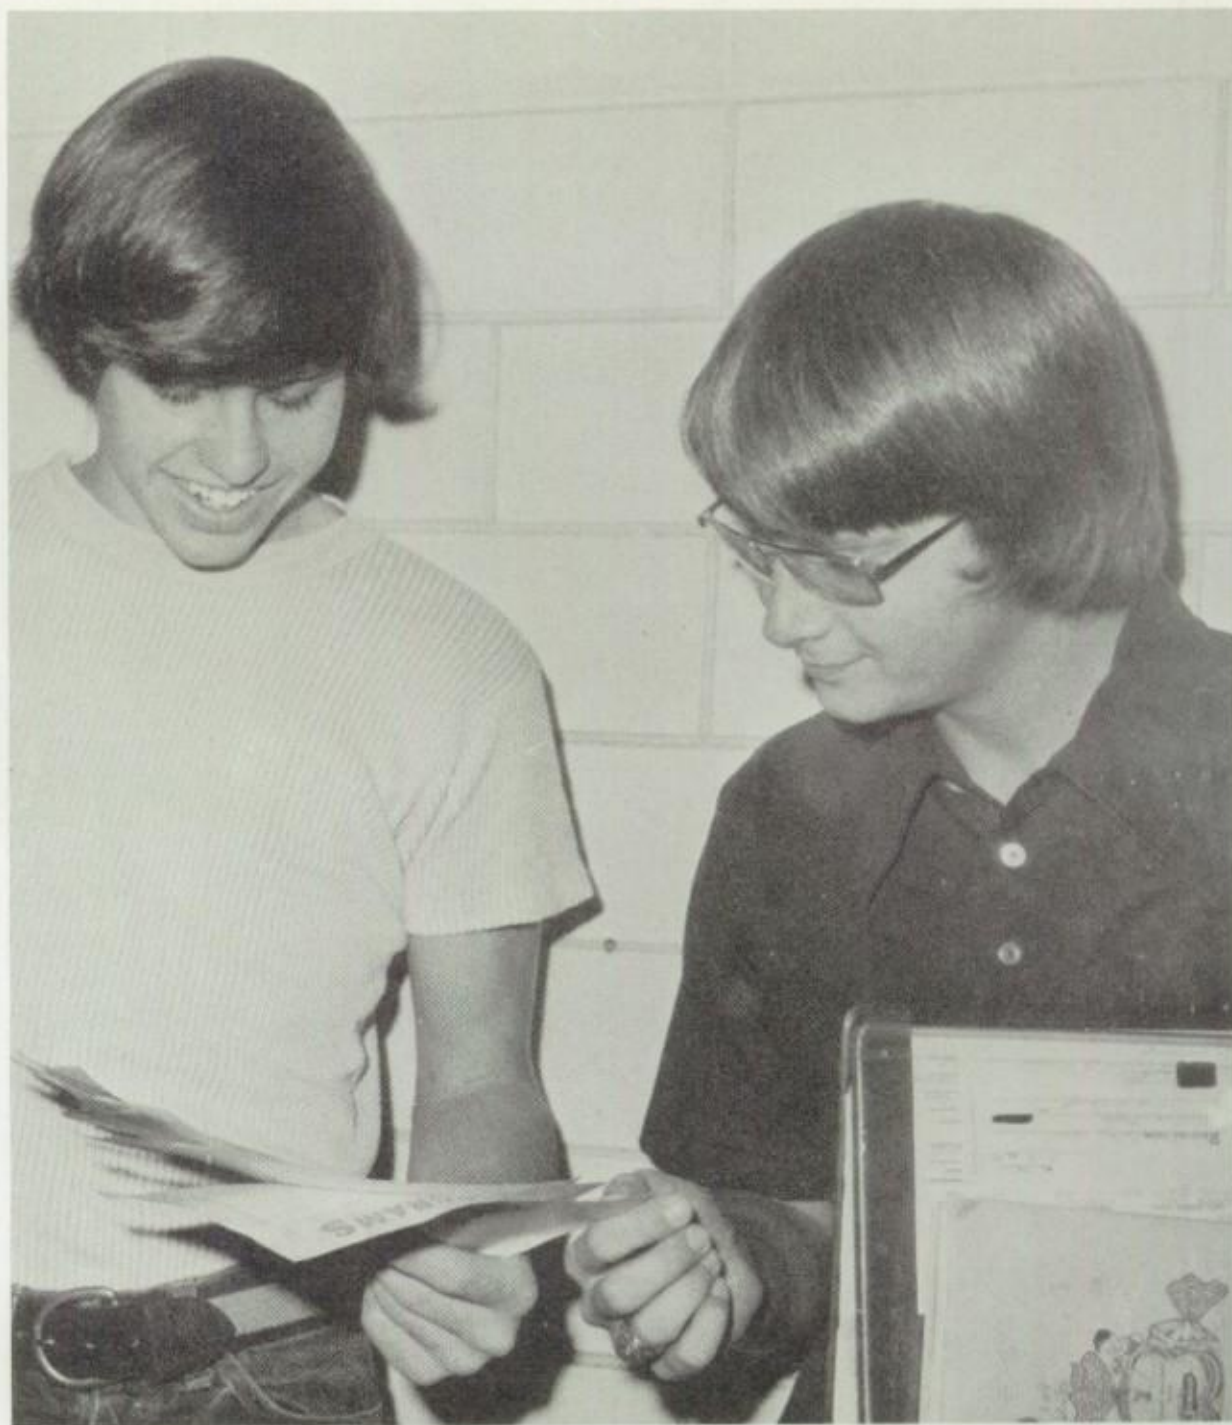

Greg wore the most stylish hat.

Anticipation

As

Gee Lovera, you're sending that to your mother?

Which one of us do you suppose he sent this to?

To Sherri, from Joe? But he's dating Kim!!

He makes me so mad I could bust!!

Overdue Panthergrams?

We Change

Life Takes On A New Role

Boy, am I confused!

I sure hope he doesn't squash them.

Gee whiz, this is the first time a girl has given me flowers!

Twirp Day, bah — humbug!

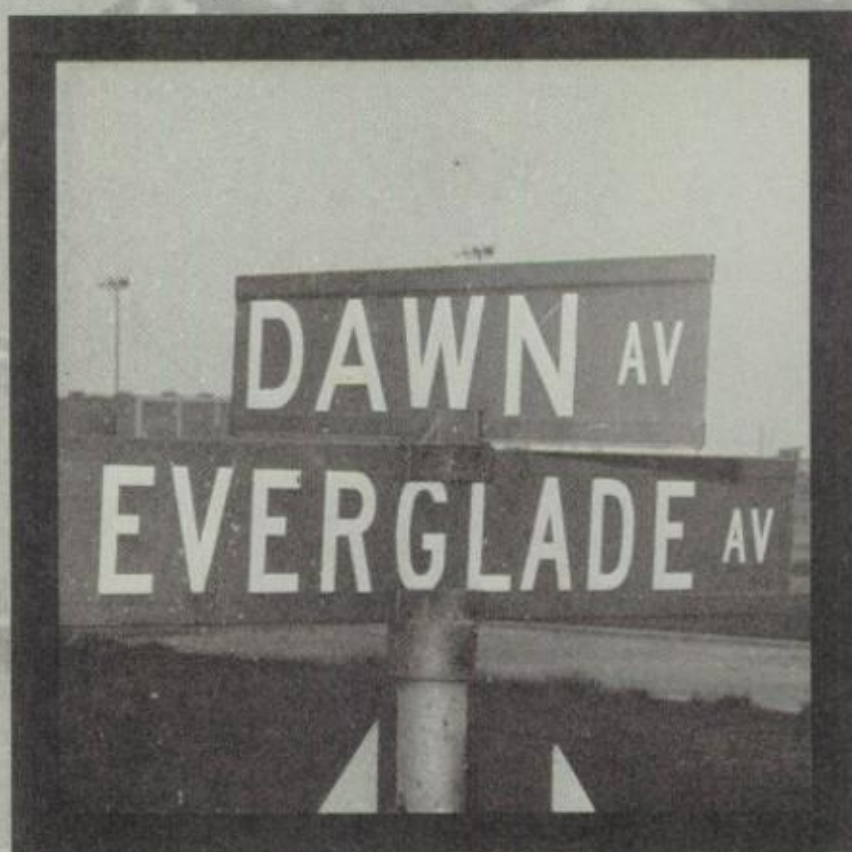

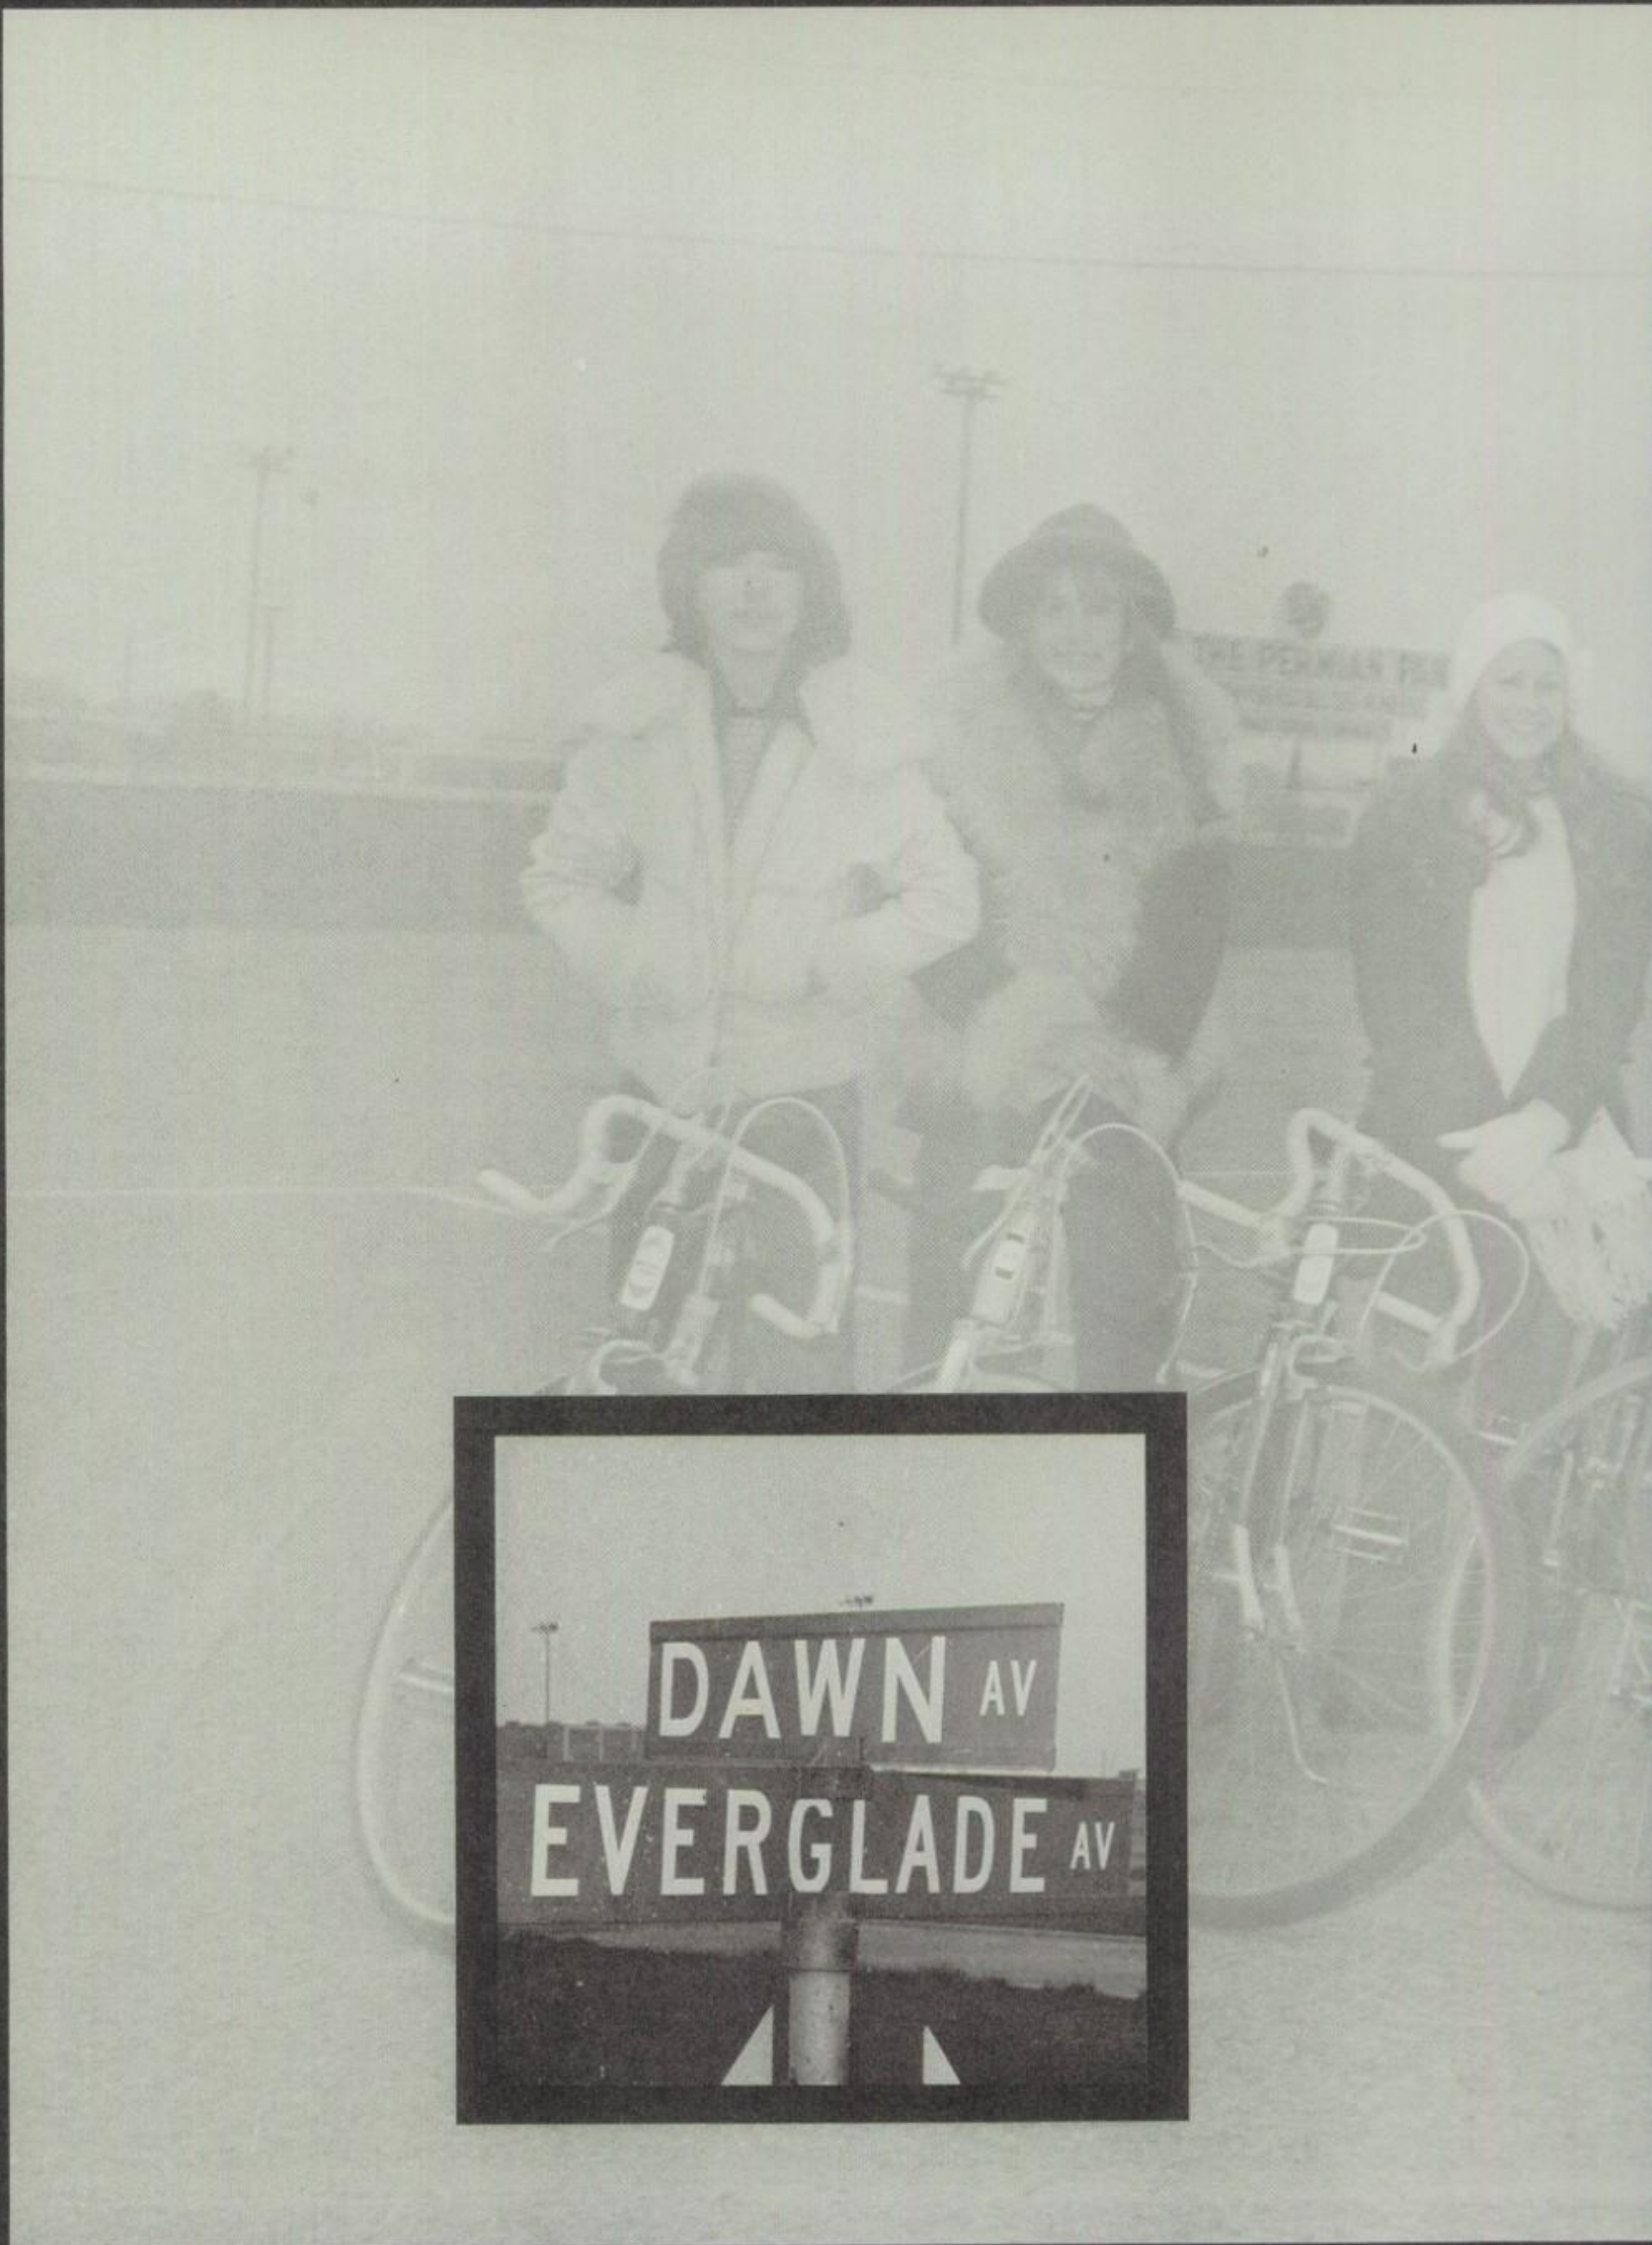

Is this all you got for a get-well card?

"And now, Coach Wilkins will do his famous imitation of Howard Cosell."

As students at Permian High School, we traveled paths which helped us reach our individual goals. Now as seniors, we stand at the crossroad to determine whether we will expand our goals or whether we will turn in the direction of a lesser task. It does not matter how important or unimportant these goals are because each person has his own priorities.

Our senior year has been filled with unique experiences which will never be forgotten and can never be relived. As time passes, all that remains are memories of . . . friends, congested hallways, and parking lots, ringing bells, messy lockers, concerned and understanding teachers, panther paws, horse shoes, and horse apples, 42-7 victory over San Angelo, unequal support of athletics, the 7 inch snow, measuring for caps and gowns and finally . . . graduation. But our experiences were not all exciting and rewarding. Setbacks and problems occurred that had to be met with strong determination and an enduring sense of humor.

Our special thanks to Mrs. Tittle, a devoted and understanding sponsor, and to the members of the 1974 Panther staff for their determination and hard work.

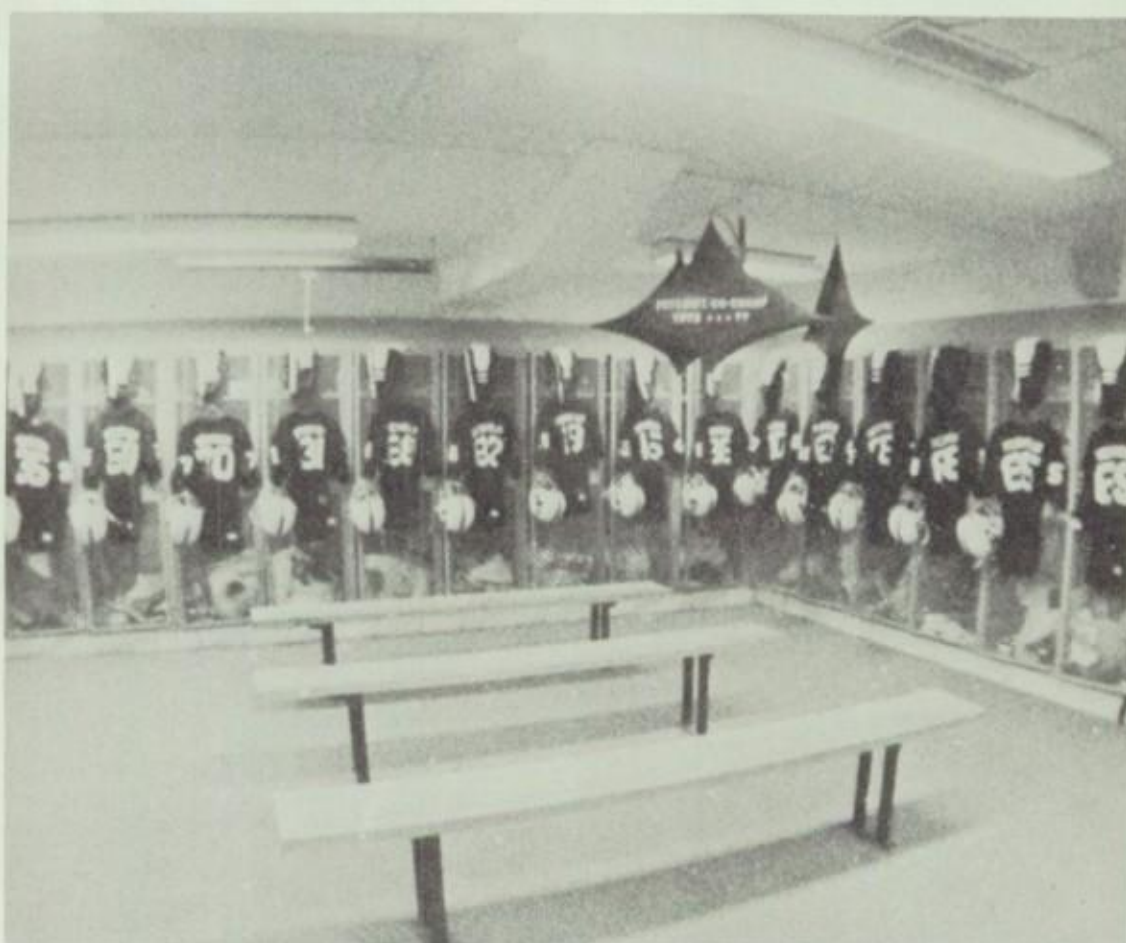

As we say good bye, let us not regret our parting. We must look ahead to the end of our journey, for all roads will come together somewhere along the way.
